Strategy Overview

In a comprehensive effort, St. John's Health (SJH) collaborated with consultants from Kaufman Hall & Associates (KHA) to conduct an extensive market analysis and evaluation of SJH's financial and operational performance. The insights gained from this analysis were instrumental in shaping a strategic plan designed to ensure SJH's ability to consistently provide high-quality care, maintain strong organizational performance, and preserve its independence, enabling it to best respond to our community's needs.

The strategic plan serves as a roadmap, positioning the organization for continued success in an ever evolving and competitive health care landscape.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE PLAN INCLUDE:

- Enhancing service access through a new patient navigation program.
- Supporting SJH's workforce through clinical education, leadership development, and an ongoing commitment to workforce housing.
- Advancing clinical care in areas such as oncology, orthopedics, trauma care, behavioral health, neurology, pulmonology, with investments in staff, facilities, and equipment.

Key Factors and Considerations

COMMUNITY INPUT

Under the leadership of CEO Jeff Sollis and with active involvement from the HR/Strategy and Finance committees of the Board of Trustees, the development of the Strategic Plan was a community-driven effort.

- Community Engagement Sessions: These sessions emphasized the ongoing need for SJH to partner with the community to enhance behavioral and mental health services.
- Public Survey Findings: The primary obstacle to receiving care at SJH was identified as “Lack of Services Needed,” based on the findings from our public survey.
- Voices JH Focus Groups: Focus groups were conducted to gather input from our Spanish-speaking community, highlighting access barriers as a predominant theme.

Key Factors and Considerations

HEALTH CARE TRENDS AND MARKET DYNAMICS

- Modest growth in the local population.
- Rising demand for age-related diagnoses.
- Increasing patient expectations for digital and virtual health care capabilities.
- The aging population leading to a shift in our payor mix towards Medicare, placing greater pressure on revenue.

Key Factors and Considerations

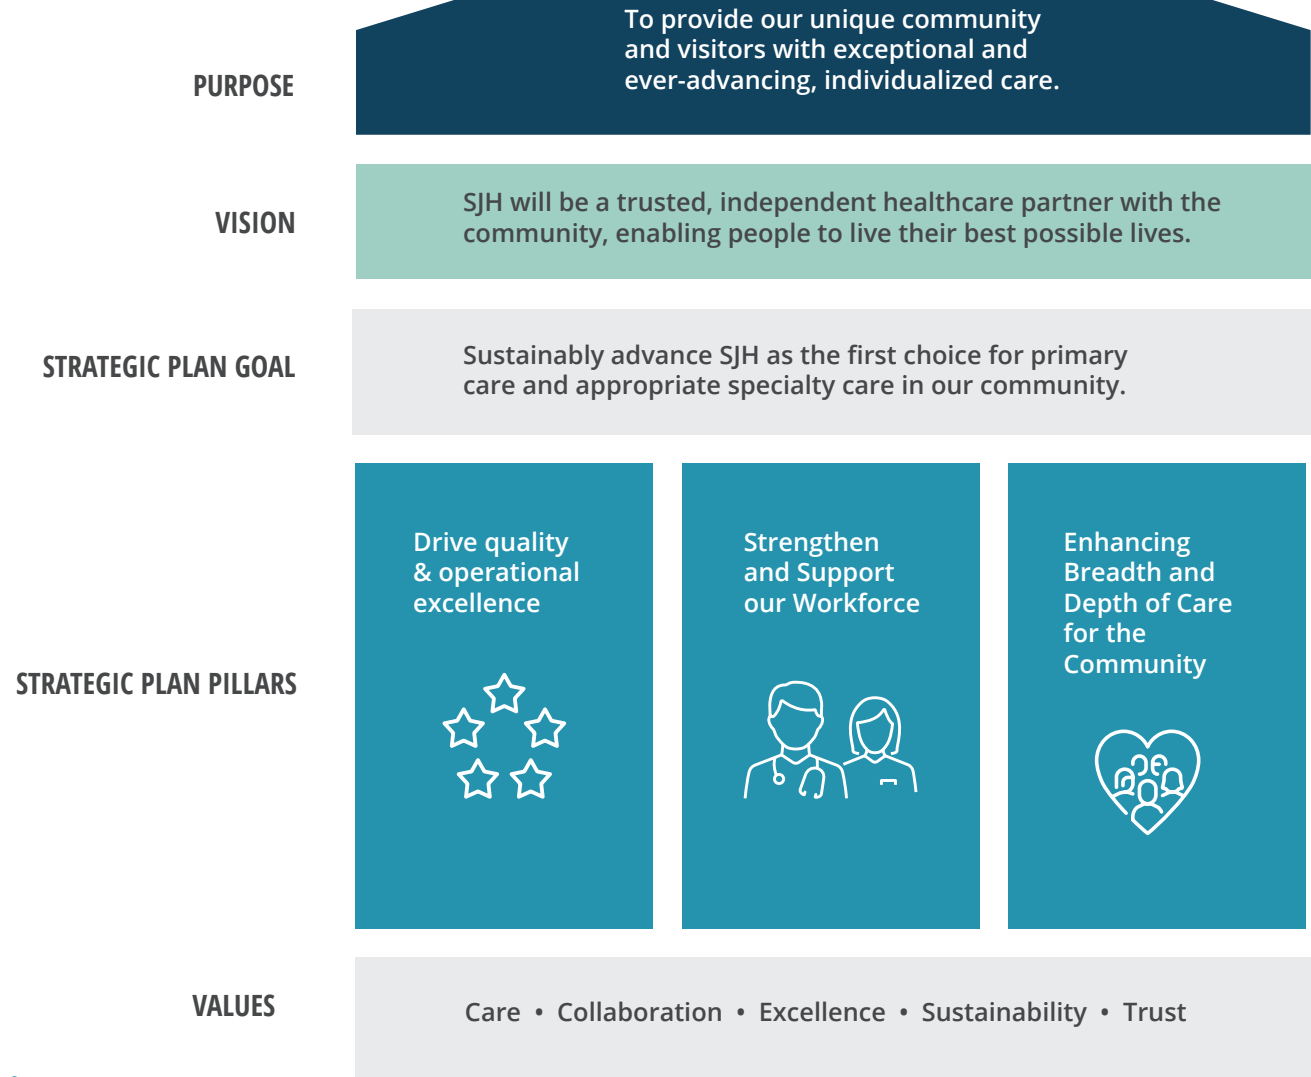

COMMITMENT TO FINANCIAL SUSTAINABILITY

The strategic plan is designed to support our operating income, ensuring long-term sustainability and continued independence. Achieving sustainability will require a rigorous approach to our financial performance.

- Operational Improvements: Focus on core operational improvements, optimize current services, and work on both existing and new initiatives that drive higher volumes, ultimately increasing net revenue.
- Financial Sustainability: Meeting cash flow needs for program expansions will depend on enhanced operational performance improvements and continuing our reliance on mill levy tax collections to support unreimbursed and charity care.
- Foundation Support: St. John's Health Foundation will play a significant role in addressing capital and other financial requirements to enhance the sustainability of SJH.
